Acceptable Use Policy

Version 1.4 | Effective date: November 28, 2026

Provider: Niels Bunschoten, doing business as Webworthi | Costa Mesa, California, USA | nb@webworthi.com

Use managed website services lawfully and with respect for visitors, other customers and the availability of shared infrastructure.

1. Prohibited activity

Do not use the service for fraud, scams, malware, phishing, impersonation, spam, intellectual-property infringement, unlawful discrimination, unlawful collection or misuse of personal data or activity threatening the security or stability of a hosting service. Customer must hold rights and consents needed for its materials, communications and collection activities.

2. Sensitive information

The launch service excludes medical records, Social Security numbers, directly collected payment card details and similarly sensitive information. Stripe handles card collection on its hosted payment interface. Separate legal, technical and vendor assessment and written approval are necessary before any specialized engagement. Provider prohibitions remain binding. Do not submit credentials through ordinary forms.

3. Reporting and protective action

Report a concern to nb@webworthi.com with the affected URL and supporting facts. Webworthi investigates proportionately and, where appropriate, gives notice describing the issue and a reasonable opportunity to remedy it. For serious harm, security incidents or unlawful activity, Webworthi may immediately restrict the affected function, preserve relevant evidence and notify the customer as soon as lawful.

4. Resolution

After remediation, verify the fix and review reinstatement. Repeated or uncured material violations may result in termination under the service agreement. Customers can dispute an action through the support email. Protect unaffected customer-owned assets and lawful data rights. Any public suspension message will remain neutral.
